

Press Release

FOR RELEASE May 10, 2008

Contact: Lara Starcevich (970) 641-4029, ext. 11 email: gcartslara@gunnison.cc

Improve yourself with Improv at the GAC

GUNNISON – On Friday, May 23rd at the Gunnison Arts Center, be prepared to laugh, chortle, guffaw, and somersault in the aisles as the GAC Attack Comedy Club returns to the GAC stage to yak it up. Showtime is 8pm and tickets run pretty cheap: $5 (general) and $3 (students, GAC members). Due to some of the content, this show is recommended for mature audiences only.

“What is Improv?” You ask. “Does it mean I have to bark like a dog onstage?” No it doesn’t. Unless you want to and even then you don’t have to. Just tell yourself “Maybe another time!” The beauty of Improv is that you don’t have to be onstage to be a part of the action. Improv relies on seasoned performers who jump off stage and run into the audience and pull somebody out to perform with them. Just kidding! Well, kind of. Most of the time, they take suggestions from the audience and then act them out in front of you. For more information, call the Gunnison Arts Center Box Office at 641-4029.